Ranger Chief Promotes a new Junior Ranger!
Many special guests visit the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame & Museum each year, but most aren't as lucky as young James Mann, age 5 years old, to have an unexpected greeting by the active Texas Ranger Chief! James and his family, who live in Cedar Park near Austin, visited the museum for the first time recently when his uncle was visiting from England. According to James' father they wanted to do something as a family that both James and his uncle would especially enjoy. "I was pleasantly surprised that there was so much to keep kids entertained. James really enjoyed doing the scavenger hunt and finding all the bad guys!" said Barry Mann, James' father.
Clay Shoots

The Texas Ranger Association Foundation (TRAF) hosts clay shoot tournaments around Texas to raise funds for their scholarship and compassionate relief programs. The next three locations are:

Co. "D" Clay Shoot
Aug. 17, McAllen

Co. "F" Clay Shoot
Sept. 16, San Antonio

Co. "E" Clay Shoot
Oct. 1, San Angelo

During the visit, Chief Prince presented James with a Texas Ranger badge, and James presented the Chief with a great big hug in return! The interaction was meaningful for them both. "It was an honor to meet James. He is a remarkable young man that carries many of the same traits as a Texas Ranger, namely great courage and respect. The high honor of being a junior ranger shall continue with James into perpetuity." said Texas Ranger Chief Prince. In an email to TRAF Board Member Constance White, who introduced James and his family to the Chief, James' father wrote, "I wanted to thank you for making our visit to the museum even more memorable. James had a great time there and meeting the head Ranger was very cool for him."

James and his family spent more than three hours at the TRHFM. It is a visit they will long remember!

Recap: Summer Camp

Friday, June 24th marked the fourth annual Texas Ranger Day Camp, hosted by the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum and Texas Top Guns - Frontier Battalion Company "D", the official living history and reenactment group of the museum.

Nearly 30 campers from across Central Texas attended the half-day camp, which included activities such as roping, rope-making, leather working, tracking and cooking. The campers were treated to a special visit by retired Texas Ranger Sergeant Matt Cawthon, who spoke on the current mission and duties of the modern-day Texas Ranger law enforcement division. The camp concluded with a firearms-safety demonstration and a "One Riot, One Ranger" skit, in which one Ranger defeated 7 rioters.

The Top Guns came back to the museum on Saturday, June 25th to display their Ranger camp and chuck wagon. Visitors were able to experience some of the same activities as our campers, including walking into a Captain’s tent, learning about their tools and tasting biscuits cooked in a dutch oven over coals.

The Texas Ranger Day Camp was made possible through the generous support of the Texas Top Guns, without whom this camp would not be possible. Additionally, the museum wishes to extend its thanks to the staff of Quality Inn and Suites Near University, as well as author Robert K. DeArment and his wife, Rose, for the sponsorship of four day camp scholarships.

Region 12 Teacher Training
On Thursday June 23rd, Education Service Center Region 12 hosted a six hour professional development workshop for social studies teachers in partnership with the Texas General Land Office (GLO) and the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum. The program focused on the importance of one of Texas’ greatest natural resources: land.

The morning began at Region 12 offices in Waco with presentations by GLO Education Coordinator Buck Cole. After lunch, the group recommenced at the Ranger Museum, where author Bob Alexander spoke on the fence cutting wars of the middle Nineteenth Century. Research Librarian Rusty Bloxom shared the importance of primary versus secondary research sources, and provided a tour of the Tobin and Anne Armstrong Texas Ranger Research Center. The program was wrapped up with a tour of the museum.
The Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum is grateful to Education Service Center Region 12 Social Studies Content Specialist Bill Shuttlesworth for his efforts in coordinating this professional development workshop.
