Dear Christine,

This newsletter will focus on Museum events, outreach and the further development of your Texas Ranger Hall of Fame. Thanks for helping preserve the unique heritage that is the Texas Rangers!

Artifact Spotlight

The Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum received an antique handmade chair as a gift from the Gus Knox Fariss Family. According to Knox family lore, this chair was brought to Texas from Pennsylvania on a covered wagon more than 150 years ago. It was the last item loaded onto the wagon and the first item unloaded when it got to Texas. The handmade chair was passed down to the donor, Inge Fariss, by her father-in-law. The chair is hand-carved wood with a cowhide seat. According to Mrs. Fariss, the cowhide was applied when wet, tied into place with leather thongs, and then allowed to dry in place providing a sturdy, durable seat for the travel-weary Knox family.

Donation from the Krist Foundation

The Krist Foundation of League City, Texas, has contributed $10,000 in support of renovations to the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame. Foundation chair, Ronald D. Krist, is one of the most distinguished trial lawyers in Texas.

The Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum recently received on loan an 1870 Texas State Police Badge from Donald Yena. The formation of the Texas State Police was a result of the Police Act of 1870 and authorized 257 men to serve as state-wide law enforcement at a time when lawlessness and violent crimes were very high. Though the State Police were generally successful in their endeavors, the organization was highly controversial and on April 22, 1873, the law that had created the organization was repealed. Leander McNelly served as a member of the State Police along with thirty-six others who went on to become Texas Rangers. This badge was recovered in the downtown Austin area many years ago by a bottle hunter.

Barbs, Bullets & Blood

On Saturday, September 29th, the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum hosted 'Barbs, Bullets & Blood: The Wire War That Revolutionized Texas.' Four well-known researchers and authors - Bob Alexander, Clifford R. Caldwell, Harold D. Jobes and Michael Barr - shared their knowledge of one of the truly amazing chapters in Texas history - the struggle over the introduction and acceptance of barbed wire in the Lone Star State, as well as its lasting impact on our everyday lives. In addition, guests enjoyed samples of Texas Ranger queso made by ChefEase and sold in HEB stores across Texas.

The Texas Ranger Hall of Fame staff is grateful to our presenters, Steve Murray of ChefEase and Texas Top Guns for their participation. For more information on the event and the history of barbed wire, please click here to read "Brazos Past: Unraveling Steel Ribbon in Texas" article from the Waco Tribune.
We will sell merchandise from the gift shop and have a drawing for attendees.

Among the activities are a cowboy art show, cowboy poetry, costume contest, reenactments by Texas Top Guns, chuck-wagon lunch and a raffle for a BBQ grill and smoker. For more information, call (903) 549-2134. We look forward to seeing you there!

Texas Ranger Education Center

In June 2010, the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum opened the Texas Ranger Education Center, a cooperative project of the City of Waco, the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Texas Rangers. The Education Center, available by application at no cost, provides area nonprofit organizations with a state-of-the-art classroom for programs and training related to safety, well-being, crime prevention, and good citizenship.

Promoted by Captain Robert K. Mitchell, the Education Center gives the many organizations that teach the core values of personal responsibility and public service a place to fulfill their missions. Since opening, over 100 different nonprofit and governmental agencies have used the free facility. Some of the educational programs have included: car safety seat installation course, tutoring for the math and science TAKS test, citizen's police academy training, Girl Scout workshops and more.

The Texas Ranger Education Center allows organizations to focus resources on delivering services rather than paying for facility rentals, which in turn has impacted McLennan County citizens. As a Sul Ross Elementary event organizer once said, "We were able to use the money that we normally have to spend on renting a facility to buy more toys and clothing for the students who were definitely in need."
During the week of August 6th, over 20 new Texas Rangers participated in a weeklong training session in the Texas Ranger Education Center.
